

MARKET CONSULTATION BOND MARKET CLASSIFICATION

21 November 2025

Overview of the Bond Market Classification Framework

The Bond Market Classification Framework describes the framework used to classify bond markets according to their respective levels of market development. The framework classifies markets as Developed, Emerging or Frontier.

The current Bond Market Classification Framework is available at: <https://www.solactive.com/wp-content/uploads/2025/11/Bond-Market-Classification-Framework-1.7.pdf>

Proposed Change to the Bond Market Classification

Solactive has decided to conduct a Market Consultation with regard to the reclassification of one country as a result of the annual review of the Bond Market Classification. The change in classification is as follows:

- Taiwan: Foreign investor limitations have been eased, and required HDI data is now available. Solactive suggests including Taiwan in the Hard Currency and Local Currency bond market lists.
- Pakistan: HDI fell below the required threshold. Solactive suggests excluding Pakistan from the Hard Currency and Local Currency bond market lists.
- Uruguay: No live sovereign bonds were identified during the review. Solactive suggests excluding Uruguay from the Hard Currency and Local Currency bond market lists. Since currently there is no live bond from this country, this proposition will have no impact on the indices.
- Bulgaria: It will adopt the Euro on 1 January 2026. In line with the framework, Solactive suggests including Bulgaria in the Developed market.
