ESG Factors Applied in the Benchmark Methodology

List of environmental factors considered	> The ESG score of an issuer is considered in the weighting of the final index components. The final index components are first ranked by their overall ESG score and then assigned to quintiles with the best bonds in terms of ESG score being placed in the first quintile. The market capitalization weights of the single bonds are then adjusted based on which quintile they are placed in. All bonds in the first quintile receive a cap factor of 1.5, that is their market capitalization weight is multiplied by 1.5. Bonds in the second quintile receive a cap factor of 1.25, bonds in the third quintile receive a cap factor of 1, bonds in the fourth quintile receive a cap factor of 0.75 and bonds in the fifth quintile receive a cap factor 0.5
List of social factors considered	> The ESG score of an issuer is considered in the weighting of the final index components.
